Mission

The Greenville Farmers' Market provides a location where local farmers and gardeners can supply the Delta with fresh produce, plants, locally made crafts and other agricultural products. The Farmers' Market is a safe community gathering place where citizens can learn about and practice healthy eating habits while supporting their local economy.

Organization

The Greenville Farmers Market is located at 734 Washington Avenue by the old Railroad Depot across from Queen City Furniture and is open from 8:00 am- 12:00 pm on Wednesdays and Saturdays from June until October (tentatively). (Opening /closing dates depend on produce availability.)

Membership

Membership to the Market is open to any person interested in, and who supports the purpose and objectives of, the Greenville Farmers' Market. Criteria for membership may be from time-to-time established by the Farmers' Market Committee. Cost of a membership is $35 per month or $100.00 for the entire season.

Market Spaces

Spaces will be awarded on a first come, first serve basis and reset each market day. (In other words, if you want a specific spot, be the first one there each time you come. There is no space saving. All growers and sellers are responsible for providing any tables needed for their booth. Vendors should be set up and ready to sell by 8:00 a.m.

Electricity

Electrical outlets are available at the Market. Should a vendor need access to a plug, other vendors should cooperate with them in allowing an extension cord to be placed through their stall or by swapping positions. Be sure that all extension cords used are in good working condition and of a gauge sufficient to handle the load. Electricity is provided only for small appliances and fans. If you use heavy refrigeration or other things that use lots of power, you will need to pay an extra fee.
